National Technology Day celebrations

Open Day at DFRL

45 food products for ISRO's Gaganyaan Space Mission on display; Hundreds of students visit unique expo

Mysuru, May 11 (BS)- Defence Food Research Laboratory (DFRL), Mysuru, has prepared 45 varieties of space food for the impending India's first manned space flight Gaganyaan of Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO).

It's a first-of-its-kind venture by ISRO that has planned to send three to four astronauts and DFRL that prepares variety of food products for armed forces, has taken care of the demands of ISRO for the most ambitious space mission, by preparing 45 desi food products including vegetarian and non-vegetarian dishes.

Students being explained about space food during Open Day at DFRL in city this morning.

These food products were kept on display at the Open Day organised by DFRL as part of National Technology Day celebrations at its premises in Siddarthanagar, today.

The Lab observed Open Day today to educate the students and the general public on current technological development in the field of processed and packed foods.

Speaking to media persons, DFRL Director Dr. A.D. Semwal said, "The feedback is good as they (ISRO authorities) have found our food products tasty. Even the leftover food can be kept in a newly devised anti-microbial bag, while in space."

Three-tier security for EVMs at strong rooms

Armed Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) personnel guarding the entrance to the counting centre at Maharani's College of Commerce and Management for Women on Valmiki Road in city this morning. Picture right shows one of the strong rooms being doubled-sealed in the presence of DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra, who is also the District Electoral Officer.

Mysuru, May 11 (RK&BCT)- With the fate of candidates securely sealed in the Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) and the VVPAT systems (Voter Verifiable Paper Audit Trail), the machines were brought to the mustering centres and after de-mustering, the machines were shifted to the Maharani's College of Commerce and Management for Women on Valmiki Road in Vinayakanagar (Paduvarahalli).

It was a night-long process that began after the polling concluded at 6 pm yesterday. After sealing the EVMs and VVPATs, they were brought from the polling booths to the mustering centres for the de-mustering process.

All 11 mustering centres had dedicated strong rooms and the machines were deposited there in booth-wise manner as per the serial numbers. Polling officers of the booths left the mustering centres after the machines were locked in the strong rooms.

Night-long process

Later in the night, the machines were brought to the counting centre at Maharani's College of Commerce and Management for Women and Central Armed Reserve Police personnel, senior district officers and the Police were involved in the operation. The process was videographed for additional security.

A total of 65 teams participated in SYMBIOT from different colleges across the country and was reviewed by judges from well-known Start-ups.

SYMBIOT not only provided a platform for the competitors to solve real world problems, but also gave a finest experience to student-participants.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Back in the 1980s and 1990s, a trip from Bangalore to Mysore meant a lot of excitement. We used to drive to Mysore at least three or four times a year and each journey was enjoyable. My father-in-law, who lost his vision towards the end of his life, would be excited to return to his native. He would note the time of departure and go, "Are we at Kengal? I think we are now taking a turn towards Chennapatna; isn't this Maddur?" We would be surprised at his accurate guesses. Was there an aroma to these places that he sensed and we didn't?

The best part of the drive were the huge trees — banyan, peepal, tamarind, raintree and so many more — on either side and the lush fields and orchards beyond that stretched till the horizon, dotted in between by small towns. Children could see sugarcane, paddy, vegetables, coconut groves, fruit orchards, ragi and more crops for real that they see only in text books or movies today! All the vehicles would definitely stop over to drink the fresh, tender coconuts, buy fresh fruits and vegetables sold by the farmers immediately after harvest and have breakfast or lunch at one of the many good highway hotels. The famous Maddur vadas were a much-awaited treat! There was no ignoring the lure of the colourful Channapatna toys and decorative items. A trip to Mysore, thus, was more like an enchanting tour to faraway lands. All that is lost now! (Thanks to Expressway)

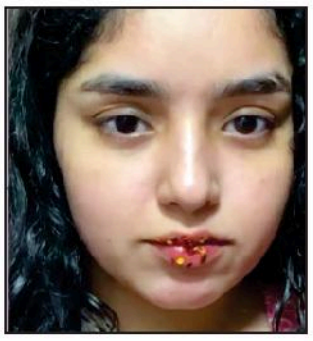
Meteorite-like object crashes through home

New Jersey: A metallic rock fell out of the sky and hit a house in Hopewell Township, N.J., located approximately 10 miles north of Trenton. The Hopewell Township Police Department responded to the incident and confirmed that the oblong-shaped rock damaged the building. "It penetrated the roof, the ceiling and then impacted the hardwood floor before coming to a rest," the police department said. No one was injured during the incident.

An investigation is underway to identify the rock and to determine if it is indeed from space. Scientists will closely examine the rock, which appears to have a charred exterior and measures approximately 4 inches by 6 inches. The Hopewell Township Police Department said that the meteorite could be related to the recent peak of the Eta Aquarid meteor shower, but it is still unclear if the two events are related.

Chilli flakes with lip gloss baffles internet



New Delhi: When it comes to beauty and skincare hacks, the internet surely doesn't disappoint. However, some are also downright bizarre and many of them cause more harm than good. One such video has gone viral, showing a beauty blogger preparing a chilli lip gloss.

The video opens to show Jahanvi Singh taking out some lip gloss on a makeup palette. She then takes a small packet of chilli flakes, mixes it with lip gloss and applies it on her lips. After a while, she wipes it off her lips to show the results.

"Viral Chili lip gloss. Never again," the video caption reads, indicating that she immediately regretted her decision to try it, as her lips seem swollen.

While some were stumped by the bizarre beauty hack, others questioned the need to do this.

Voting day travails

Sir,

This refers to KBG's Abracadabra on May 9 and reports with pictures on May 10 in Star of Mysore, giving encomiums to the Election Commission (EC) on several new steps taken to attract the voters. The EC rightfully deserves them for what has been done.

Yet a number of deficiencies also need to be pointed for further improvement in future. I wish to share my experience and result of discussions with friends who have performed duties as Presiding Officers at polling booths in the past.

1. I cast my vote at Nirmala Convent School, V.V. Mohalla early in the morning. There were many senior citizens, both men and women, standing in the queue and were desiring to sit awaiting their turn. But there were only a few chairs for the two booths together.

2. The windows of the rooms in which the booths were set up were very dirty.

3. Lighting facility at the EVMs was poor which reduced the visibility of the names and party symbols of the candidates.

4. There was no notice to educate the voters regarding the need to wait for 7 seconds after pressing the EVM button to be able to see the symbol light on and the VVPAT to show one's choice recorded correctly.

5. The much needed (for seniors) sign board showing way to rest rooms (toilets) was absent. When I went in search of the rest room for gents, I found it locked and bereft of water from the closets. I urged the security person to put up a sign board or chalk mark on the wall.

6. I also could not find any drinking water facility near the rooms at which we were waiting. May be it was available somewhere else.

7. Upon discussing these issues with a few friends, senior and retired and who had discharged the function of Presiding Officers at polling booths, I was dismayed to know that the personnel working at the booths have no time to rest or stretch their legs and limbs from morning till the time of closure. I feel it is inhuman to make them work like this continuously which also impairs their efficiency and temperament.

Also no lunch or refreshments were provided for them by the authorities, I am told. They said that during their time the villagers used to prepare food for them treating the occasion as a festival but soon it was discontinued because of objections from contestants sensing favouritism etc.

I have only listed a few that occurred to my thinking. I am sure a lot more needs to be done to bring about a big change in voter participation, ease of voting etc.

More flights needed from city

Sir,

In order to give boost to "Brand Mysuru" certain organisations were seeking several big projects in the city (Bizmen seek 10 crucial projects to give boost to 'Brand Mysuru,' SOM dated May 5, 2023). One of them was for introducing hop-on and hop-off flights to several destinations, particularly to New Delhi. This indeed is a very good suggestion. This will benefit immensely not only the business persons but even people like us who want to visit these distant places for emergencies.

Flights must be introduced to Mumbai and Delhi from Mysuru. This will save us from traveling to Bengaluru Airport and enable people to travel to foreign destinations too. Hope the authorities concerned would do something about this.

Karnataka records a historic voter turnout of 72.81 percent

Mysuru 75.07 percent, Mandya 84.36 percent, Hassan 81.70 percent, Chamarajanagar 81.62 percent, Kodagu 74.74 percent

Bengaluru/ Mysuru, May 11 (KMS&BCT)- Karnataka saw a historic voter turnout of 72.81 percent in the Assembly elections held yesterday, the highest in seven decades.

The ruling BJP, Congress, and JD(S) are in a tight contest, with the JD(S) hoping to be the king-maker in the event of a hung Assembly.

The voter turnout broke the previous record of 72.36 percent in 2018, the best since the first-ever State polls in 1952.

However, Bengaluru Urban saw a low turnout of 54.51 percent, even lower than the 56 percent polled five years ago, according to data from the Election Commission.

Melukote district registered the highest turnout at 90 percent, and Varuna, the seat of former Congress Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, saw over 84 percent polling. Voting was largely peaceful, with only sporadic incidents of clashes between party workers.

Mysuru recorded 75.07 percent, Mandya recorded 84.36 percent, Hassan 81.70 percent, Chamarajanagar 81.62 percent, and Kodagu recorded 74.74 percent.

Voters display their voter IDs at one of the polling booths in city yesterday as they wait in queue to exercise their franchise.

Voting was held for 224 Assembly Constituencies with 2,615 candidates in the fray. The majority mark to form the Government is 113 seats, according to the Election Commission of India.

As many as 5.3 crore voters were eligible to cast their vote across 58,545 polling stations in 37,777 locations, with 11,71,558 being young voters and 12,15,920 senior citizens (aged 80 and above).

There were some skirmishes at polling stations, but officials said they were swiftly controlled.

In Vijayapura district, a mob manhandled an official and damaged a vehicle carrying reserved EVMs, assuming the machines were being transported to rig the polls. Police arrested 23 people for the attack.

However, polling was largely peaceful in all 224 Constituencies, and no re-poll is indicated in any of the polling stations, according to the Election Commission.

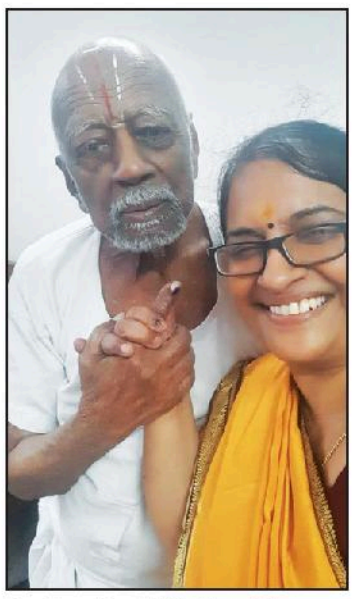
Despite a campaign blitz by several national leaders of all parties, including Prime Minister Narendra Modi, and special drives by the Election Commission to enthuse urban voters, Bengaluru's turnout in the 28 Constituencies that come under it remained low at an estimated 54.51 percent.

In a bid to check urban apathy among voters, the Election Commission had decided to hold the poll in the middle of the week to prevent people from planning an outing by clubbing the poll-day holiday with the weekend break. It had also run an extensive campaign to encourage voters to come out and vote.

A 23-year-old woman gave birth to a baby in a polling booth in Kurlagindi village of Ballari. Female officials and women voters helped deliver the baby.

Two voters died during the polling process. While a 70-year-old woman died while standing in the queue at a booth in Belagavi district, Jayanna, 49, died minutes after voting at Chikkole, Belur.

A centenarian-cum-freedom fighter wheels in to vote



Centenarian M.K. Gopal Iyengar and his daughter Krishnaveni displaying their inked forefinger after voting yesterday.

Mysuru, May 11 (SBD&BS)- Freedom fighter, ex-serviceman and centenarian M.K. Gopal Iyengar cast his vote at the Polling Booth in Sriman Maharaja Sanskrit Patashala, near Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Office in the city, for the Assembly election yesterday.

Iyengar, who came in a wheelchair only to exercise his franchise, gave a message of enthusiastically taking part in elections termed as 'Festival of Democracy' and enjoy the rights and privileges duly granted by the Constitution to every citizen of the country.

Iyengar was 19, when he was attracted towards Quit India Movement of Mahatma Gandhi and took part in the Movement. He was imprisoned and kept in Mysore Jail for 44 days and Bangalore Jail for over seven months. He later joined Royal Indian Air Force as Leading Aircraftman and also helped Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's Indian National Army (INA), becoming a part of Freedom Movement.

After India became independent, Iyengar took voluntary retirement from the service and joined as a clerk at the Magistrate Court in Srirangapatna and served for sometime. He quit the job and switched over to selling incense sticks, leading a life of self-reliant.

He also taught at Government Middle School, H.D. Kote and invented his own recipe of milk kova sweet of better quality for the poor students and succeeded as a sweet vendor too.

Likewise, Iyengar led a disciplined life, which prompted him to vote without fail.

Technical glitch in EVM keeps voters waiting for one hour!

Mysuru, May 11 (CN&BS)- Following the technical glitch in Electronic Voting Machine (EVM), the voters had to wait for one hour to exercise their franchise at the Polling Booth Number-190 in St. Mary's School, Ramanuja Road, Krishnaraja Assembly Constituency in the city yesterday.

The technical glitch in EVM came to notice at around 11.30 am and the voters in the queue outside, had to wait for one hour before the EVM was restored to condition to resume voting at 12.30 pm. While some of the voters thought it tiresome to wait for a longer duration and went home and returned to exercise their franchise.

Narayanappa, a voter, blamed it on the political high-handedness and the deliberate act of inert officials, who have fixed such EVMs, as one hour lost in waiting for EVM to get repaired, is costly.

KR Constituency has reported 60 percent voter turnout and the Polling Officials should have extended the timings of voting to match for one hour that went waste without voting.

On the other hand, the voters and Polling Staff, who were tired in the process, had no way to quench even their thirst due to lack of adequate drinking water facilities.

Post-election Relaxation !

Mysuru, May 11 (MTY&DM)- A day after Mysuru voted along with the rest of the State, candidates were back in the office, meeting voters and visitors at their residences/ offices and thanking the party cadre. A few spent time with their families or took time off to rest.

With the key Assembly elections over, leaders seem to be gearing up with offering prayers at different temples. Candidates of the four Constituencies in Mysuru city — Chamaraja, Krishnaraja, Narasimharaja and Chamundeshwari Assembly segments — were in a relaxed mood this morning.

While some candidates continued to hold discussions with party leaders and workers about their poll prospects, a few others chilled out.

Chamundeshwari MLA and JD(S) candidate G.T. Devegowda (GTD) was seen relaxing with his grandchildren and other family members, playing indoor cricket and other desi games at his residence in Vontikoppal. Narasimharaja JD(S) candidate Abdul Khader Shahid spent time with his family members at his residence in Kesare.

Narasimharaja BJP candidate Sandesh Swamy, along with his wife Geetha, visited Sri Raghavendraswamy Mutt on Narayana Shastry Road and offered special prayers to the deity. Later he spent some quality time with his family members at his residence.

Chamundeshwari BJP candidate V. Kaveesh Gowda visited Sri Mruthyunjaya Temple in Vijayanagar 3rd Stage and sought the blessings of the deity.

Chamaraja MLA and BJP candidate L. Nagendra was seen having thorough discussions with party workers and leaders on his poll prospects at his residence in K.G. Koppal. He also sought inputs on booth-wise poll percentages and the number of votes he may get in each of them.

Chamaraja Congress candidate K. Harishgowda, Narasimharaja MLA and Congress candidate Tanveer Sait and Krishnaraja Congress candidate M.K. Somashekar too were seen having discussions with their respective Constituency Congress workers on their poll prospects and the likely tally of votes.

Meanwhile, K.R. Nagar MLA and JD(S) candidate S.R. Mahesh flew to Shirdi this morning to have the darshan of Shirdi Sai Baba. Mahesh is expected to return to Mysuru by Saturday morning when the counting of votes will be taken up.

Krishnaraja BJP candidate T.S. Srivatsa, who contested the Assembly election for the first time, was in a relaxed mood, going through newspapers at the BJP Office in Chamarajapuram this morning. He also held discussions with State BJP Vice-President M. Rajendra, Zoo Authority of Karnataka (ZAK) Chairman M. Shivakumar, party leader H.G. Giridhar and party leaders and workers who visited the BJP Office. He was also seen making his own poll calculations.

Deepika Padukone features on cover of TIME magazine

New Delhi, May 11 (UNI)- Deepika Padukone in her illustrious career has gone on to conquer the global arena with a string of achievements that most could only dream of. Adding another feather to her international hat, the superstar now features on the cover of TIME magazine.

With this, Deepika gets added to the list of the rare Indian actors to be on the cover of TIME, as she joins the elite club of global figures like Barack Obama, Oprah Winfrey and several other influential personalities who've had the honour of featuring on the prestigious and highly respected magazine.

It was only last year that the superstar was awarded 'The Time100 Impact Award' for her achievements in cinema and for her work in mental health advocacy. She was also the only Indian to be honoured twice by TIME.

Time and again Deepika's unparalleled popularity, wide global appeal and unbeatable stardom have put India on the global map. Only this year, Deepika took over the stage as the only Indian presenter at the Oscars and was amongst the most talked-about personalities at this year's Oscar awards.

The superstar ended 2022 with a bang and made headlines for becoming the first Indian to unveil the FIFA World Cup trophy as she accompanied it to the stadium and unveiled it amidst a stadium packed with thousands of screaming fans — truly a monumental moment in her career. She was also part of the eight-member jury at the prestigious Cannes Film Festival 2022, making her the only Indian on the esteemed jury.

Unquestionably the country's biggest Global Brand Ambassador, Deepika clinched the biggest endorsement deals with global luxury brands, Louis Vuitton and Cartier. If that wasn't enough testimony to her impact in the global arena, she was also listed alongside Kim Kardashian, Bella Hadid, Beyonce and Ariana Grande as one of the 10 most beautiful women in the world. On the film front, Deepika has 'Project K', and 'Fighter' in the pipeline.

Open Day at DFRL

Explaining about the features of food products exclusively prepared for Gaganyaan, Dr. Dev Kumar, Scientist (E), DFRL, said that "enough care has been taken to check the suspension of food particles in air due to zero gravity condition. In the case of fragmentation of food particles, the chances of pieces of food settling on parts of equipment cannot be ignored. Similarly, separate food and water pouches with a piercing tool has been designed, so that the astronauts can mix water irrespective of hot or cold to the food for rehydration."

The 'veg katti roll' (stuffed chapati roll) has been prepared in such a way that, the stuffed food won't spill over. The other types of space food include sambar chawal, potato stuffed paratha, chikki, kadhi chawal, moong dal halwa, cashew, sooji halwa, vegetable biryani, chicken biryani, chicken pulav to name a few.

The other notable feature of the exhibition was the millet based food products, another first-of-its-kind attempt, as part of International Year of Millets 2023.

The food products are millet nippatu mix, millet ada mix, millet kheer mix, millet ragi mudde mix, millet chapati mix, millet flakes, millet idli mix, millet dosa mix, multi-millet chikki, sweetened millet mix etc.

That apart, several other food products regularly made suiting the demands of armed forces and other conditions like Meals Ready to Eat (MRE), terrain specific MREs, combo meals, chicken pulav, chicken curry, rajma chawal, milk testing kit, bio-degradable cutlery, life sustenance systems and several other products were on display.

Mention must be made of modular SILO for storing army ration, designed and installed by DFRL, the model of which was also on display during the exhibition which concluded at 4 pm today.

Students of various schools and colleges like CRESTA School of Management Science and Arts, Vidya Vikas Educational Institutions, GSSS Educational Institutions and several other institutions visited the exhibition in large numbers.

At CFTRI

CSIR- Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI), opposite Rail Museum, KRS Road, too has organised National Technology Day celebrations at its premises this afternoon.

PM Modi launches projects worth Rs. 5,800 crore

Prime Minister Narendra Modi seen interacting with a student-innovator at the National Technology Day celebrations in New Delhi this morning.

New Delhi, May 11 (Agencies)- Prime Minister Narendra Modi inaugurated the programme marking National Technology Day 2023 in New Delhi this morning.

With this, the programme also marked the commencement of the celebration of the 25th year of National Technology Day, which will be held from May 11 to 14. Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and Union Minister Dr. Jitendra Singh were also in attendance at the event.

The Prime Minister also laid the foundation stone and dedicated to the nation multiple projects related to scientific and technological advancement in the country, worth more than Rs. 5,800 crore.

The projects for which the foundation stone was laid include Laser Interferometer Gravitational-Wave Observatory-India (LIGO-India), Hingoli; Homi Bhabha Cancer Hospital and Research Centre, Jatni, Odisha; and Platinum Jubilee Block of Tata Memorial Hospital, Mumbai.

The inauguration of these programmes and the laying of the foundation stones of several Cancer Hospitals will enhance the provisioning of world-class cancer care in several regions of the country, the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) said in an official statement.

Last month, the Union Cabinet gave its nod to a project to construct and set up a LIGO-India at an estimated cost of Rs. 2,600 crore which is likely to be completed by 2030.

LIGO-India will be an advanced gravitational-wave observatory to be located in India as part of a worldwide network. It is envisaged as a collaborative project between a consortium of Indian research institutions and the LIGO Laboratory in the USA, along with its international partners.

LIGO-India had received the Government's in-principle approval in February 2016. Since then, the project reached several milestones towards selecting and acquiring a site and building the observatory.

The celebration of National Technology Day was started by former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee in 1999 to honour Indian scientists, engineers and technologists, who worked for India's scientific and technological advancement and ensured the successful conduct of Pokhran tests in May 1998.

Since then, National Technology Day is observed every year on May 11. It is celebrated with a new and different theme every year. This year's theme is 'School to Startups - Igniting Young Minds to Innovate'.

Today's programme that marks National Technology Day 2023 has a special objective on Atal Innovation Mission (AIM). The AIM Pavilion will feature numerous innovative projects as well as provide an opportunity for visitors to see live tinkering sessions, witness outstanding innovations, engage in tinkering activities and showcase products by start-ups.

Three-tier security for EVMs

According to election officers, it was past midnight when the machines reached the main counting centre. Here too, the machines were segregated Constituency-wise and were placed in the designated sections under a pre-determined number. This process was completed early in the morning after which, the strong rooms were sealed and the security was handed over to Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF).

The strong rooms have only one entry point and a double lock system. One key is kept with Returning Officer and the other with the Assistant Returning Officer of the concerned Assembly Constituency. Other entry points of the strong rooms (including windows) have been sealed in such a way that no one has access inside the strong rooms.

Sealed till May 13, 8 am

The machines will be opened on the counting day of May 13 at 8 am in the presence of Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, who is also the District Electoral Officer, sector magistrates and the contesting candidates. EVMs and VVPATs of all 11 Constituencies have been stored in the designated strong rooms and each Constituency has a separate counting hall and other allied arrangements.

Taking the apprehensions and fears of political parties into account, the Election Commission (EC) has directed district election authorities to fortify the strong rooms. The security in all strong rooms has been beefed up to three layers. While over 80 armed CRPF personnel are providing the first layer of security, the second layer of security is provided by the Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP). The third layer is managed by over 350 personnel from the City Armed Reserve who will work in three shifts.

Double-lock system

These rooms are sealed in a double lock system and it is humanly impossible to reach the strong rooms as there are over 30 closed circuit (CC) surveillance cameras. Even the senior officials can only inspect the security arrangements from outside the strong room. Even the entire campus has been put under surveillance.

"An additional 40 CCTV cameras will be installed today and there are dedicated TV screens to beam the visuals. This will act as a deterrent to those who try to approach the strong rooms. Armed central force has been kept on 24x7 vigil right at the entrance door of all the strong rooms. No one, including the district election authority, would be allowed to come close to the strong room without signing in the log book put up at the entrance," City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth told Star of Mysore.

The log book will be maintained by the security personnel in which entries should be made about the date, time, duration and name(s) of anyone entering the premises. On the counting day, 200 more City Civil Police personnel will be deployed. Parking will not be allowed on the premises of the counting centre and all vehicles must be parked at a distance, the Commissioner added.

In addition, DCP M. Muthuraj and Narasimharaja ACP Ashwathnarayan and Vijayanagar ACP Gajendra Prasad will do regular checks at an interval of two to three hours to ensure security.

Elaborate arrangements for food, water and toilets have been made for the security personnel along with fire extinguishers and ambulances.

Team of Poll Observers scrutinises strong room

Mysuru, May 11 (RK&BCT)- A team of Central and State Election Observers began the scrutiny of the strong rooms of all the 11 Assembly Constituencies at the Maharani's College of Commerce and Management for Women on Valmiki Road in city.

The team reached the counting centre and a few representatives of political parties (candidate agents) were also present. The Observers thoroughly examined the Register of Voters (Form 17A) and the total votes polled in the machine(s) tallies with the total votes polled mentioned in the Form-17 C submitted by the Returning Officers.

The Observers examined the records of the booths where the highest polling was reported to match with the poll data and also the register of voters, the signature affixed on the register and the related forms. Even the records of booths that reported the lowest voting percentage was examined.

Data was also screened on the people who have voted despite not having the voter ID card and the polling that was done based on old voter ID Cards. In case, the total votes polled in the machine(s) do not tally with the total votes polled mentioned in Form-17 C, the matter should be referred to the Election Commission for its decision, officers told Star of Mysore.

When the representatives of political parties pointed out some deficiencies and gave suggestions, the Observers assured them that they would bring it to the notice of the Election Commission.

Delhi Government wins in Supreme Court over tussle with Centre

New Delhi, May 11 (Agencies)- In a huge win for the Delhi Government in a drawn-out tussle for power with the Centre, the Supreme Court today said in a democratic form of Government, the real power of administration must rest with the elected arm of the Government.

The Delhi Government must have control over services and the Lieutenant Governor is bound by its decision, a Constitutional Bench of the Supreme Court said in a unanimous verdict. The Delhi Assembly is given powers to legislate to represent the will of the people, the Supreme Court said.

"If officers stop reporting to the Ministers or do not abide by their directions, the principle of collective responsibility is affected," Chief Justice D.Y. Chandhrachud said, reading out the order.

The Lieutenant Governor, who represents the Centre in Delhi, is bound by the decision of the elected Government on services and by the aid and advice of the Council of Ministers.

The Lt. Governor has powers under the administrative role as entrusted by the President but it cannot mean administration over the entire Delhi Government, "otherwise the purpose of having a separate elected body in Delhi will be rendered futile," said the Supreme Court.

"If a democratically elected Government is not allowed to control its officers and hold them to account, then its responsibility towards legislature and the public is diluted. If an officer is not responding to the Government, the collective responsibility is diluted. If an officer feels they are insulated from the elected Government they feel they are not accountable," said the Chief Justice.

Setback to Uddhav Thackeray in SC

Uddhav Thackeray Govt. can't be restored since he resigned: Supreme Court

New Delhi, May 11 (Agencies)- Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde will get to keep his job and his Government, the Supreme Court said today, in a massive setback for Uddhav Thackeray over last year's Shiv Sena mutiny.

Uddhav Thackeray

Eknath Shinde

The Supreme Court said it cannot disqualify Shinde and 15 other MLAs for revolting against then Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray in June last year. It also rejected a request to restore Thackeray's Government because the leader had chosen to resign instead of facing a test of strength in the Assembly.

The Supreme Court, however, censured then Maharashtra Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari, saying he had "erred" in concluding that Thackeray had lost the support of the majority of MLAs.

Uddhav Thackeray had asked the Top Court to step in after Shinde, backed by the opposition BJP, split the Shiv Sena and led most of the MLAs to form a new Government.

The decision was delivered by a five-judge Bench of the Supreme Court led by Chief Justice D.Y. Chandrachud who clustered eight petitions on the face-off.

Senior lawyers Kapil Sibal and Abhishek Manu Singhvi argued for Uddhav Thackeray's team in the Court while Harish Salve, Neeraj Kaul and Mahesh Jethmalani represented Eknath Shinde's camp.

Congress candidate dismisses charges of 'getting booked'

Mysuru, May 11 (PM&DM)- A day after the Assembly polls voting, Chamundeshwari Constituency Congress candidate Mavinahalli Siddegowda has refuted charges purportedly made by some of his fellow Congress leaders that he has been 'booked' by rival JD(S) candidate.

Mavinahalli Siddegowda

Addressing a press meet at his residence this noon, Siddegowda said that it was Opposition leader and former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah who took pains to get him the Congress ticket for Chamundeshwari Constituency, even though he had not applied for it like other aspirants.

Strongly refuting the charges made by some of his fellow Congressmen, who chiefly included former ZP President K. Marigowda, he said that it was a plot by some disgruntled Congress leaders to malign him when the polls were underway.

When asked why he was alone at the press meet, Siddegowda said the party workers were tired of poll campaign and were relaxing at their homes and as such could not attend the press meet which was called at short notice.

DECODING MYTHOLOGY

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Wokeness of Bhasmasur

In the famous mini-series, Game of Thrones, everyone loved the queen Daenerys Targaryen who was the mother of dragons. She rode these amazing creatures and watching her fly made everyone feel powerful. If you upset this queen, she could get her dragons to release fire and burn you to death. Thus she got people to fear her and submit to her authority. This fear that leads to submission and obedience is often called respect. Those who yearn for respect, seek these dragons. In Hindu mythology, the same idea manifests as Bhasmasur, or the ash-demon.

Once upon a time, there was an asura, who obtained from Shiva, a boon. He wanted to have the power of being able to touch anything and turn it into ash. This is why he was called Bhasmasur. When Shiva granted him that wish, Bhasmasur decided to test his powers by touching Shiva himself. But Shiva would not submit and began to run. The whole world saw Shiva being pursued by this ash-demon. Vishnu came to Shiva's rescue. He took the form of a damsel and enchanted the asura into touching his own head. Thus Bhasmasur was destroyed. The power that enabled him ended up consuming him. This is what is happening with the woke movement around the world.

The woke movement started in the USA in the early 20th century with American Blacks being asked to be 'woke' to the deceptions of people in power who were denying them their rights. This amplified itself in the 21st century with the increasing number of innocent black people being killed by the American Police force. But eventually, as it often happens in America, the term got appropriated by privileged White academicians as a tool against all forms of social justice, real and imagined.

As more and more people with privilege realised the power of terms like woke, it started being used in University campuses across America to declare the other as offensive, terrifying and triggering. Today, the radical trans-activist, who argues against biology, sees anyone who aligns with traditional notions of gender as oppressive. Yesterday, the radical feminist, argued against biology and insisted on equality — all women can do what all men can do. So in Hollywood films, even a massive male monster is defeated by a frail female hero, no matter what the odds. To show a man beating a woman is seen as perpetuating stereotypes and injustice. Today, the radical feminist is pitched against the radical trans-activist, as the latter insists a trans-woman can compete in female sports as trans-women are equal to cis-women. Anyone who opposes faces the wrath of the dragon, the touch of the Bhasmasur — they are cancelled, reduced to ash.

Getting woke means getting offended by everything, being self-righteous to the point of manufacturing injustice all around. Once we self-identify as a victim, we cannot be a villain. In fact, in woke circles, victimhood grants power. You ride the dragon. You get the Bhasmasur touch.

In the 18th century, the French Revolution stripped aristocrats of power and privilege and demanded liberty and equality for all. In the 19th century, following the industrial revolution, the Marxist movement divided the world into two classes: the haves and have-nots. Those with privilege were the secular equivalent of the Biblical demons, forces of the Devil. Then in the 20th century, post-structural philosophies of France argued that all social structures are designed to ensure the rich stay rich and grow richer. Thus the state itself is an apparatus of injustice, funded by the rich and the powerful, who end up controlling the legal and military systems. The only way out is to destroy these structures — on dragons, with the Bhasmasur touch.

Bhasmasur then is the woke, the asura who feels that the devas have all the privilege and support of Brahma. That is why the devas live in paradise, Swarga and the asuras have to live under the ground, beneath the feet (tala) of all creatures. He opposes all structures — class, religion, caste, gender. Even subjects like science, mathematics and history are deemed oppressive. He wants fluidity — no rules, no instructions, no boundaries, no hierarchies, the freedom to identify himself as whatever he wants. He/she can choose religion, reject caste, ignore race, invent gender, discover new sexuality. If I can be whatever I want, but others do not agree with my invention of myself, does my identity exist? I need a "state" to affirm my identity, indulge my liberty and ensure my equality. The "state" then is the obedient dragon I will ride.

A state that enforces any ideology, Left or Right, Liberal or Radical, is by definition fascist. It ends up taking away individual rights. By cancelling the opponent, the woke becomes the oppressor. Thus Bhasmasur, burning all oppressors, ends up burning himself, or herself, or themselves.

Yeligehundi villagers cast vote after boycotting polls for 6-and-a-half hours

Mysuru, May 11 (MTY&DM)- Villagers of Yeligehundi in Mysuru taluk, coming under Chamundeshwari Constituency, who had boycotted polls yesterday citing lack of civic amenities in the village, finally exercised their franchise after the authorities promised to address the issues raised by them.

Alleging that Yeligehundi was lacking in basic amenities and infrastructure, the villagers stayed away from voting, which began at 7 am yesterday. Upon learning to know of the boycott, Tahsildar Girish, Kadakola Town Municipal Council (TMC) official and other staff rushed to the village to convince the villagers to withdraw their poll boycott.

The villagers told the officials that some of them do not know where Yeligehundi is. Also their numerous representations to the authorities on the lack of civic amenities have gone in vain.

The villagers were initially reluctant to pay heed to the assurances of the officials. But after much convincing, they agreed to take part in voting, following which the voting began at 1.30 pm, much to the relief of the officials.

Yeligehundi has 1,085 voters and the Election Commission had set up a polling booth (No. 239) at the Government School in the village. The voting began at 1.30 pm after the boycott ended and the poll authorities allowed the villagers to vote till 7.45 pm as the voting which was scheduled to commence at 7 am, the standard time throughout the State, began 6-and-a-half hours late.

As many as 745 voters in the village exercised their franchise and the authorities sealed the EVMs after the relaxed polling hours ended. Later the EVMs were taken to the strong room where other EVMs of the Constituency were kept.

96-year-old removes footwear before casting vote

Mysuru, May 11 (GA&BS)- A nonagenarian woman took the Polling Officials by surprise, when she voted with utmost devotion, by removing her footwear, before voting at a Polling Booth in the city.

Bangaramma, 96, a resident of Gundurao Nagar, is the one who exercised her franchise at Polling Booth Number-233 in Krishnaraja Assembly Constituency yesterday. Following the tradition in practice to remove footwear before doing any auspicious work, Bangaramma too left her footwear aside before pressing the EVM button.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Bangaramma said: "I like to vote at the polling booth rather than voting at home and hence, I turned down the offer to make arrangements at home. I wish good for the people of the State and country and everybody should vote for the good of all."

Missing names: Hundreds of voters return home disappointed

Mysuru, May 11 (MK&BS)-It was common to see hundreds of voters returning home disappointed at several booths unable to exercise their franchise, for their names missing in the voter list.

This was the scene at several Polling Stations in the city including the Polling Booth-34 at Ambale Annaiah Pandit Government Higher Primary School, Chamaraja Double Road, in Krishnaraja Assembly Constituency, during the polling in the city yesterday.

One voter Vijayalakshmi said, "I have my voter ID and had been voting at this booth in several elections, but this time my name is not found in the list. I was told to search for my name in other booths, but to no avail. The Officials have deliberately done this."

Another voter Prabhakar vented his anguish saying, "The voter list contains the names of dead voters, except for those alive. It has been the act of Polling Officials every year. I have been voting for the past 40 years, but my name is not in the list."

According to a booth agent, the highest of complaints related to missing voters names were in Krishnaraja Constituency. Over 200 voters came to the booth only to return disappointed, as either their names were missing from the list or deleted.

"I have been voting at Nirmala Convent School (Chamaraja Constituency) in the past elections. This time only my wife's name was there but not mine. I had to return home without voting, disappointed. The authorities are responsible for removing my name from the list. Of course, in our country, nobody gets penalised for such mistakes. That is why officials do an inefficient job."

Man on his way to vote killed by wild elephant in Hanur

Hanur, May 11- A man, who was on his way to cast his vote, was killed by a wild elephant yesterday. The incident took place in Male Mahadeshwara Wildlife Sanctuary limits.

The deceased has been identified as Puttaswamy (42), a resident of Tokere village in Hanur taluk. He and his wife were on their way from Hale Martalli village to Tokere village to exercise their franchise, when a wild elephant attacked them. Puttaswamy's wife told the villagers that her husband was killed on the spot by the elephant. The villagers immediately informed the Forest Department officials, who rushed to the spot and conducted an inspection. The villagers alleged that the roads of villages in forest borders were in pathetic conditions and as vehicles including two-wheelers cannot ply on these roads, villagers walk from one place to another which was resulting in such incidents. They have urged the elected representatives and the District Administration to provide basic facilities to these villagers and prevent such incidents from taking place.

Tyre burst: Occupants injured as car rams into divider

Mysuru, May 11 (SPN&KS)- The driver and occupants of a car had a miraculous escape, when the car in which they were proceeding rammed into the road driver following a tyre burst in front of AIISH's Panchavati Hostel on Bogadi Road in city.

It is learnt that the Hyundai Creta (KA-09-MC-5991) was proceeding from Gaddige Road towards city and when it was proceeding in front of AIISH Hostel, one of the car tyre burst and the car rammed into the road divider and climbed on it causing injuries to the car occupants.

Eye witnesses told Star of Mysore that if at all the car had jumped to the other side of the road after hitting the road divider, a major accident would have taken place.

Meanwhile, public said that there is a slope on the road in front of the hostel and vehicles speed on this part of the road from both sides which is very dangerous. They have urged the authorities concerned to install road humps on this part of the road to prevent accidents in future.

Girl goes missing from city

Anusha

Mysuru, May 11 (KS)- A 20-year-old girl, who left her house on Apr. 2 at about 6 am, has since gone missing.

The missing girl is Anusha, according to the complaint lodged by her father.

Those having any information about the missing girl, may contact Kavalande Police Station on Ph: 08221-295621 or the District Police Control Room on Ph: 0821-2520040.

WORD OF THE DAY

Plausible

Pronunciation: PLAW-zuh-bul.
Meaning: Plausible means "seemingly fair, reasonable, or valuable but often not so" or "appearing worthy of belief."
Origin: Put your hands together for plausible, a word with a sonorous history. Today the word usually means "reasonable" or "believable," but its origins lie in the sensory realm, rather than that of the mind. In fact, plausible comes to us from the Latin adjective plausibilis, meaning "worthy of applause," which in turn derives from the verb plaudere, meaning "to applaud or clap." Other plaudere words include applaud, plaudit (the earliest meaning of which was "a round of applause"), and explode (from the Latin explodere, meaning "to drive off the stage by clapping"). Will the evolution of plaudere continue? Quite plausibly, and to that we say "Bravo."
Example: "The West Midlands is a region that is no stranger to myths. From the bustling motorway of M5 to quiet, secluded woods of Cannock Chase — you will hear tales of abnormal happenings. ... Some explanations are offered as to why such spooky events may be taking place. But others appear to be a mystery with no plausible explanation." — Jamie Brassington

THE ODD WORD

Palaceous

Spade-shaped.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Paddle your own canoe

Meaning: To act independently and decide your own fate.
Origin: The figurative meaning of 'Padding one's own canoe' began to be used in the early 19th century. This was what was in mind of the author of The Selangor Journal: Jottings Past and Present, 1807, when reporting the lack of community spirit amongst the coffee planters in Malaysia: If the planters would unite and use their united influence they could start a bank to advance money to deserving young planters... but they won't do it. They let each poor fellow paddle his own canoe, and if he capsizes and stretches out his hand in despair for someone to save him... they won't do it. The imagery of self-reliance that the phrase conjures up was employed by the founder of the Scouts Movement, Lord Baden-Powell, when he used it as the title of a book in 1939. The independence of mind implicit in the advice the phrase conveys is plain to see in two gung-ho poems written on the subject in the USA in the 1850s.

2023 Men's World Championships

Indian Boxers assured of 3 medals

Deepak Bhoria Mohammed Hussamudin Nishant Dev

Tashkent, May 11- Boxers Deepak Bhoria (51kg), Mohammed Hussamudin (57kg) and Nishant Dev (71kg) scripted history as they ensured India's best-ever haul of three medals by storming into the semi-finals of the men's World Championships here yesterday.

The quarterfinal wins mean the three pugilists will take home at least a bronze medal each. India's previous best show came in 2019 edition when Amit Panghal clinched an unprecedented silver and Manish Kaushik grabbed a bronze medal.

Kicking off the proceeding for India, Deepak defeated Nurzhigit Diushebaev of Kyrgyzstan in the quarters and will now face B. Bennama of France in the semi-finals on Friday.

Two-time Commonwealth Games bronze medallist Hussamundin then won against J. Diaz Ibanez of Bulgaria and will go up against Saidel Horta of Cuba in the semi-finals.

Nishant's performance was the cherry on the cake as he knocked out Cuba's Jorge Cuellar and the 22-year-old, who is the reigning national champion, will fight with Asian champion Aslanbek Shymbergenov of Kazakhstan for a place in the final.

India has so far won a total of seven medals in the previous editions — Vijender Singh (bronze, 2009), Vikas Krishan (bronze, 2011), Shiva Thapa (bronze, 2015), Gaurav Bidhuri (bronze, 2017), Panghal (silver, 2019), Kaushik (bronze, 2019) and Akash Kumar (bronze, 2021).
